PRICE TWO CENTS

Keen Competition Marks Elections Today

Therrien Expects Tough Encounter

Carabin Puck Coach Apprehensive Robertson and Schutz Co-Captains

By FRANK SHAMY

"One thing is sure," commented Art Therrien, coach of the University of Montreal hockey team, "we won't be alone out there in the Verdun Auditorium tonight. I heard that Rocky's boys really came through with a fighting display against Laval, and the time has passed when we can take things for granted against the Redmen. The breaks probably will decide the game, and it can go either way."

Art Therrien has decided to reshuffle his forward lines in an attempt to secure more scoring punch for tonight's game. He intends to combine his aces, Bernie Quesnel and Roy Flynn, on a line with John Bruneau. Another change will see the two Hotte brothers, Georges and Claude, playing together with Albert Day. The third line will consist of Lazure, Dagenais and either Leduc or Blaisson. The defence will still be understaffed with only three defenders in front of goaler Marcel Auger. Jean Vernier, Jacques Day and Andre Charest will share the heavy burden of a normally four man job.

Game time tonight is 8:15 p.m. at the Verdun Auditorium. The price of tickets is 25 cents plus an athletic coupon.

Hockey Tickets

Tickets for Friday night's McGill-Toronto senior intercollegiate hockey game at the Forum will be on sale today and tomorrow in the Union between 12 and 2 p.m.

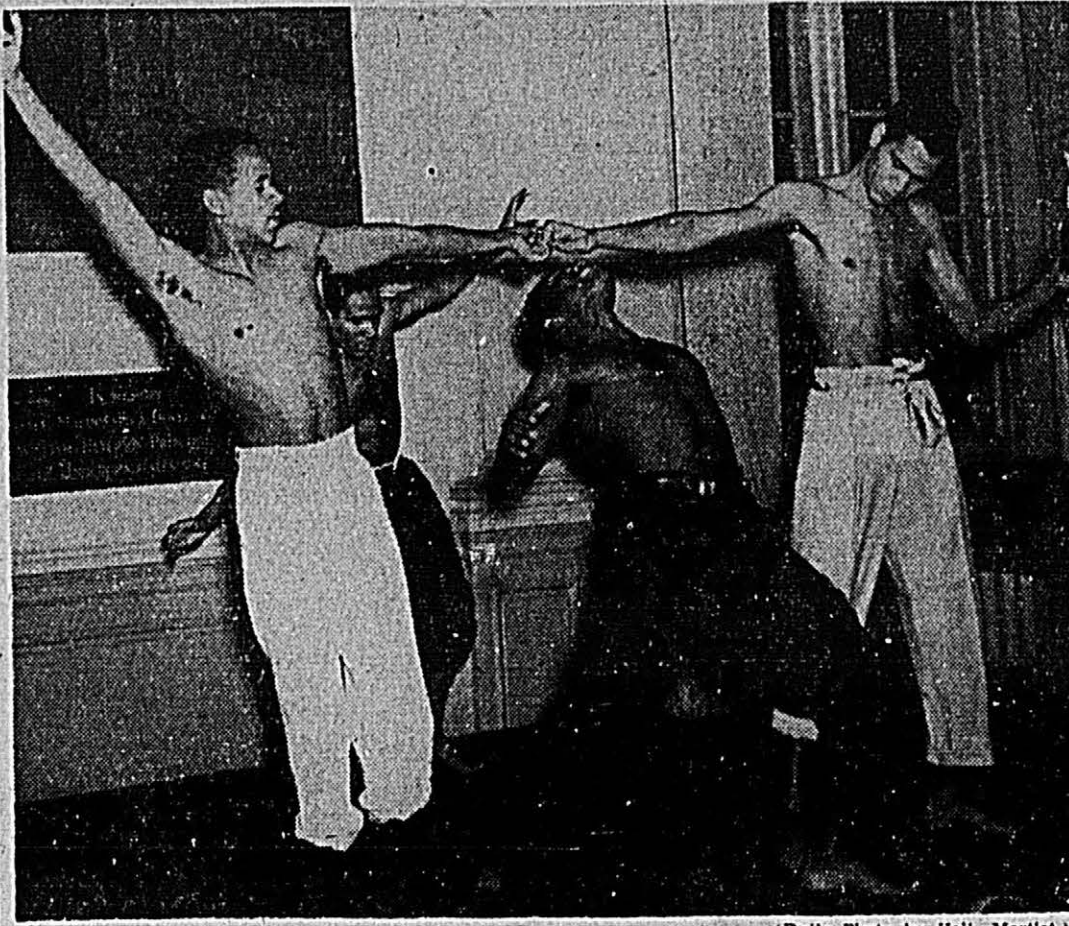

The game is the first home game for the Redmen this season. It also marks the debut of the Toronto Blues of '51-52 who are defending intercollegiate champions. A large student turnout is a great asset for the players and coach who promise to provide fans with an exciting evening of hockey.

knows that both teams, as in the past, will be giving all they have and no matter what the outcome is, it promises to be terrific contest.

So there you have it from the coaches. Tonight's tussle will be the first of the season between the Carabins and the Redmen, and the winner will move into undisputed possession of first place in the league standings. Three teams, Laval, McGill and U. of M., are currently leading the loop, each having registered one win to date. Toronto, the fourth team in the league, opens their season at the Forum against McGill Friday night.

The big news out of the McGill camp today is the election of co-captains for the 1951-52 season. Yesterday, after their practice session at the Forum, the boys cast their ballots for a team captain, and after the count the honors went to rookie Whitney Schutz and veteran Ron Robertson. These two lads will share their duties as the team's spokesmen on the ice.

Only two lineup changes were announced for tonight's game. Johnny Wright, understudy to Bob MacLellan last year, will don the goaling pads behind the capable defence duos of Len Shaw and Jim McGowan, and Ron Robertson and Hy Rissman. Up front the same combinations that did so well against Laval will be intact except for one change. John Lynch will replace Pete Roberts on a line with Bill Duke and Eric Appleby. Pete

This will be one of the several dance routines set for 'Tropicana' to be produced tomorrow night and Friday night in the Union Ballroom.

Go Tropical With Tropicana Review

By MARY MURRAY

Would you like to go on a Caribbean Air Cruise?

"Tropicana," a musical production to be presented by the West Indian Society, tomorrow and Friday night at 8 p.m. in the Union, will take the audience on an imaginary air trip to the Caribbean. There will be stopovers on various islands of the West Indies, where calypso and dances to the rhythm of calypso, typical of these islands will be performed by members of the W.I. Society. Proceeds will go to the Jamaica Hurricane Relief Fund.

Calypso are the native songs of the West Indies, which play an integral part in the life of the communities. They take their themes from current events on the islands, such as, elections or sensational crimes; they are mostly composed during the pre-Carnival season by both professional and amateur calypso writers.

Dances are all performed to the calypso rhythm. Among those to be presented in "Tropicana," are Tropical Passion which is a love dance performed by a boy and girl who work themselves up into a great frenzy of passion; and the Street Cries which take place in the market place where vendors solicit customers with chants about their wares.

Classics Studies Needed, A&S Debators Decide

"A study of the classics is necessary for a liberal education."

This was stated by the winning affirmative side in yesterday's Arts and Science Debate, Resolved: That the Study of the Greek and Latin Classics is Necessary for a Liberal Education. The chairman, Isidore Yablon, introduced the speakers, Bram Eisenstat and Timothy Dade for the affirmative, and Hy Donnensfeld and Hy Rodman for the negative.

In giving his decision, judge Marv Gameroff said that there had been very little clash of argument and that the debaters on the affirmative side had won not because of what they had said but because the negative had failed to follow through their challenge and show point by point why the affirmative had failed to prove their side of the debate.

The affirmative speakers tried to point out that there was absolute correlation between the classics and a liberal education. The first speaker stated that in order to grasp a vocation it was also necessary to grasp the ethical traditions of that vocation.

The negative said that although a man might be well on the social sciences, unless he was also up on the classics he was not liberally educated.

In concluding their argument, the affirmative stated that a liberal education was intended to broaden a student's outlook and to prepare him for a future profession or technical training.

The negative insisted that if a liberal education was defined as one which necessitated the study of Greek and Latin classics, it was in fact an "illiberal" definition of a liberal subject.

Poll Locations For Elections

For today's elections voting booths have been set up throughout the campus. The members of the different faculties will vote in various places. All regular students, taking three or more courses, are eligible to vote. The 23 polls will be open from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. The location of these polls is as follows:

ARTS: (Women)—Women's Common Room; (Men)—Men's Common Room.

SCIENCE: (Women)—Biology Building; (Men)—Men's Common Room.

ARTS, SCIENCE AND COMMERCE PARTIALS: (Women)—Women's Common Room; (Men)—Arts Building Lobby.

FINE ARTS: (Women)—Women's Common Room; (Men)—Arts Building Lobby.

Toronto Student Council Charges Varsity Staff with Irresponsibility

Toronto, Ont.—(CUP)—Charges of editorial irresponsibility were laid against The Varsity last week by members of the Students' Administrative Council of the University of Toronto.

Discussion started when a member of the S.A.C. rose to deliver a report on the Finance Committee. He prefaced his remarks with an attack on a recent Varsity editorial titled: "Why Botherism."

The editorial, in question commented on the tendency seen in federal and provincial legislatures towards a one party House with little or no opposition. The editorial included the S.A.C. in this category, complaining that there seems little diversity of opinion in it.

The editorial concluded that the S.A.C. is spared the problem of worrying about reaction to their policies.

Seven SEC, Three Union Posts Sought

Tetrault Says..

Each year you are deluged with pleas in the Daily imploring you to vote. This year the character of non-voters have been related to a hog, gorilla and a cat. I would like to add to this by saying that those of you who are too indifferent to vote for your Council representatives are spemthriffs. Each year you pay $15 to the Students' Society. Your representatives on the Council decide how your money will be spent. If you wish your money to be spent wisely, then it is up to each of you to vote for the person you think will best represent you.

Four Council Seats Acclaimed: Polls Close at 4P.M.

By H. DON ALLEN

With more names included on ballots than has been the case in many a recent year today is election day for 51 campus posts.

Polls will remain open until 4 p.m. as students select from 168 candidates those that are to fill seven positions on the Students' Executive Council three Union executive positions, and Women's Union, Red Wing and Scarlet Key posts.

Increased numbers of candidates and a Daily poll held recently tend to indicate increased interest in campus elections this year. Last December 110 candidates contested the posts—2,000 students, slightly less than half of those eligible, turned out at the polls.

Holders of four SEC posts have been decided by acclamation—this is the third consecutive year in which acclamations have occurred in both Medicine and Dentistry.

By-elections are to be held today for the positions of president, vice-president and secretary of the Union. All three by-elections were brought about by resignations.

SEVEN SEC POSTS

Twenty-one undergraduates are to vie for seven SEC posts—greatest competition being in the Faculty of Arts and Science with two to be elected from among eight nominees.

Chosen by acclamation to SEC posts were Edward M. Donohue, Dentistry; Helen Panopalis, Music and Divinity; Clare Cran, Physical Education, Physiotherapy and Graduate Nurses, and Ted Waugh, Medicine.

Those SEC positions to be decided in today's elections:

Arts and Science (two to be elected): Robert Bion, Mary Jane Ferrier, Marvin Gameroff, Gabriel Glazer, Haldis Jorgensen, Denis G. Smith, Dave Straw, Pat Vos, William Willmott.

Commerce: Peter Cameron, Don G. Joss.

Engineering: William Hunter, George H. Milne.

Law: Ham Quinn, Marvin Rosenhek, Reilly Watson.

Architecture: Donald Cash, Alex Mayers.

Women's Union: Mary-Anne Currie, Joey Hanlon, Jill Hutchinson.

In all categories but Faculty of Arts and Science one candidate is to be elected.

THREE UNION POSTS

In Union by-elections two candidates are contesting posts of presidency and vice-presidency; four are vying for the post of secretary. Men students only are eligible to vote where Union positions are concerned.

Annual Elections Today For Honorary Societies

Eighty-five Will Contest Key Positions

Male undergraduates at McGill cast their ballots today to choose 28 fellow students who will act in the capacity of officials hosts of McGill University.

A total of eighty-five students will contest the twenty-eight positions available on the Scarlet Key Society.

The list of nominees is as follows:

Group A
Medicine (2): Joseph Bender, Colin Campbell, Tom Cranston, Laurie Hutchison, Geoffrey Lehman.

Commerce (3): Donald Badke, Bill Carson, Lorne W. Cox, Dave Dorion, Jerry Friedman, Leslie Ham, Bob Hunter, Joel Rubino-vitch, Frank D. White.

Arts and Science (4): David W. Artis, Basil Ballon, Hershel Bernstein, Roy Bolduc, John Cameron, Bob Chambers, Wallace B. Eno, William Levitt, John E. Morch, Eric E. Pickett, Ted Polissuk, Marlin Rabin, Henry Sedgwick, Frank Shamy, Allan L. Sherwin, Harvey H. Sigman, William G. Timmins, Arthur M. Weinthal.

Dentistry (1): George Curtis, Jack Rymonowski.

Engineering (4): Don Ennis, John Garneau, Phil Hamilton, Lawrence Jackson, Pentil Lauren, Dick Patience.

Phys Ed (2): David Bell, Mark L. Hatt, Hank Sliwka.

Architecture (1): Pierre Lafond, Brian Pye.

Law (2): Mike Cain, Ken Gates, Jim Lattimer, Arthur Yanofsky.

Forty-seven Vie For Posts In Red Wings

Nine coeds will become Red-wings after today's election out of the 47 nominees. In each year one will be elected from resident students and two from non-residents. The number of nominees exceeds that of last year by 15, and no posts have been filled by acclamation.

The list of nominees is as follows:

RESIDENTS: First Year: Helen Claxton, Nancy Roscoe, Ann Taprell.

Second Year: Barbara Brower, Danny Deboo, Barbara Dubrille, Jane Easson, Mary Griffin, Jeanette Hatfield, Eleanor Hillborn, Joan Moeybaer.

Third Year: Polly Benua, Becky Fooks, Joey Hanlon, Claudia, Peaquin.

NON-RESIDENTS: First Year: Eleanor Blanchard, Helene Caillie, Alison Cobban, Kitty Evans, Efa Howard, Catherine O'Brien, Lois Rubin, Susan Teakle, Barbara Timmins.

Second Year: Carol Bock, Christie Brown, Judy Cliff, Dinah Freeborough, Meredith Gilmour, Mary Herzberg, eBnte Jepsen, Nan Kennedy, Johanna Leopold, Marybel McColl, Barbara Mackey, Judy Patton, Geria Thomas.

Third Year: Carol Bock, Christie Brown, Judy Cliff, Dinah Freeborough, Meredith Gilmour, Mary Herzberg, eBnte Jepsen, Nan Kennedy, Johanna Leopold, Marybel McColl, Barbara Mackey, Judy Patton, Geria Thomas.

WORLD EVENTS

SUEZ, EGYPT.—The streets of Suez have become the scene of house-to-house conflict between British troops and Egyptians. Combined casualties have risen to 120. The British are attempting to seal off the city in an effort to stem the rioting.

MANILLA, PHILIPPINES.—The belief that some 2,000 people may have perished in the eruption of a volcano on Camiguin Island was announced by island officials yesterday. The Red Cross report however sets the count of known-dead at 141.

MUNSON, KOREA.—Once more cease-fire talks have slowed down to a walk. The Allies have expressed the fact that they do not understand the proposals set forth by the Communists for the supervising of a Korean truce.

National Secretary Pilon Reports On New Levy and Summer Travel

A tentative plan to charge students a dollar each for Nfcus, a scheme for cheap travel in Europe, and the cost of university education in Canada were the highlights of a report given by Yves Pilon yesterday. Pilon, National Secretary of the National Federation of Canadian University Students, gave the committee a report progress made by the different universities mandated by the annual conference.

Chief plan underway is that which would levy a $1. fee for N.F.C.U.S. to be collected at registration from each student. This would free the student councils of the burden of the 20c per student Nfcus fee at present paid from society fees.

Package trips to Europe under Nfcus auspices have been arranged for this summer. Through the cooperation of the British National Union of Students, the United States National Union, and the Scandinavian unions, it will be possible for students to go abroad this summer on conducted student tours at greatly reduced rates.

Mr. Pilon said that a resolution would be presented at the annual meeting of the National Congress of Canadian Universities asking that administration try to eliminate the frequent changing of textbooks which so much increases the costs of books.

An important report made by Mr. Pilon was that an arrangement had been made with Samuel French Ltd., Toronto royalty collectors, which would give student productions a special rate which would save them about $10 per production after the first night of a play. He expressed the hope that the amateur theatrical groups in the colleges would benefit by this.

The work of McGill on the seminar mandate and the independent poll on costs of education here, was commended by Mr. Pilon.

Pension Allowances

Students at McGill whose fathers died as a result of World War II, and whose mothers are in receipt of a Canadian Government Pension may be eligible for Pension Allowance beyond the normal age limit. Inquiry as to eligibility should be made by the mother to the Pension Commissioner, Ottawa.

The Hour of Decision

We were sitting in the Grill Room of the Union a few weeks ago, having coffee with two of our friends. We talked about student affairs in general, and before long the conversation turned to what the SEC was doing. At first, it was just an ordinary chat, with each of them having a few beefs (they are quite active and had some specific complaints), but soon the air was filled with loud criticisms of the SEC as a body and of the representatives as individuals. One of them even went so far as to suggest abolishing the entire organization, although he didn't offer any alternative scheme for self-government. This little episode isn't entirely unusual; the ending, however, is different. To our surprise, when nominations closed, we found our two friends were both running for office.

The moral of this story is: any organization which is loudly criticized, yet has its critics willing to become part of it, is important. These two realized that since the SEC was important enough to criticize, it was worth while to participate in.

We can't all participate so directly. Not all of us have the experience to undertake the job; not all of us are willing (or can afford) to devote the time required for a responsible position. But all of us can help determine who is to govern us.

What critics of such organizations do not realize, or more probably forget, is that they and the rest of the student body are directly responsible for who becomes their representatives to the Council or, for that matter, to any elected campus organization. It is quite possible that, say, a council member may have been elected by a minority of the students in his or her faculty and, though it is quite unlikely, may not reflect the views of the majority. But that again is the responsibility of the individual student. For if he didn't vote, his silence signalled agreement with whomever the majority of the interested students had elected.

After a recent experience with polls, we tend to be a little suspicious of them. Our most recent poll, printed in The Daily yesterday, disclosed that almost 90 per cent of students intended to vote in today's election. Whether they were sincere or just didn't want to be badgered by our pollsters for reasons for not voting, we don't know. However, we always hope that our predictions will come true, and nothing could give us greater pleasure than to find tomorrow night that this poll had hit the mark. E. K.

Letters to The Editor

Opinions Are Not Accusations

Dear Sir,

My letter in Friday's Daily was merely a statement of personal opinion. It was not my intention to embroil myself or anyone else in a difficult situation. Since I was rather hot under the collar at the time of writing, I let myself go a bit too freely. This has caused the letter to be misinterpreted as a series of strong accusations written with an obvious personal hatred of Mr. Sheppard. Actually I made no accusations; I wrote what I thought. An accusation must be backed up by proof. I have no proof, and an opinion needs no proof. Furthermore, I do not dislike Mr. Sheppard. But I do violently disagree with his ideas. It was against these that my letter was written.

Since, due to my own error, my opinions were taken as direct accusations, Mr. Sheppard had me in a bad position. If he had challenged me to furnish proof, I would indeed be in a most embarrassing predicament. Fortunately, he realized the misunderstanding.

I agree with M.B. that it is bad taste to publish one's opinions of someone else; but I see nothing wrong with publishing disagreement of someone else's actions and ideas (although I will henceforth get a night's sleep before I do it). If there is anything wrong with it, then a lot of politicians have very bad taste! Well known figures are always subject to violent criticism. Mr. Sheppard is well known, and those who know him personally think that he will be much better known as time goes by.

Now that everyone knows what my opinions are, they would like to know how I arrived at them. I would like to tell them, but unfortunately the basis for personal opinion is private conversation. Private conversation cannot be revealed (in public at any rate) and can always be denied if it is.

I am therefore prohibited from publicly stating my feelings. I cannot say here why I think Mr. Sheppard would want to exaggerate anything in the report. However, I can answer some questions of Mr. Sheppard's. Assuming that he is at fault, he asks why he would not exaggerate the whole paper rather than just one question. Obviously, if he attempted this the whole committee would be down on him. He also asks why he would pick so trivial a point as the Prime Minister question. This trivial question? was invariably given first mention in all newspapers and radio reports. And I can ask him one: why, if it was all a mistake, was it not rectified before it hit the nationwide news services? It was twenty-four hours between publication in The Daily and the first publication in an outside newspaper.

Mr. Sheppard said that my letter was unfortunate and unjustified. I agree that it is most unfortunate to sincerely believe in something and yet have no concrete grounds on which to convince anyone else of the sincerity of your belief. The justification of it is a matter of opinion. There are two things I said that I admit are unjustified. I retract completely—as an opinion and an accusation—the statement that Mr. Sheppard has a warped sense of humour. My remark that he is prejudiced against Canada is also unjustified.

Finally, as a matter of interest, M.B. wants to know how I could tell how many papers in a given number answered the Prime Minister question incorrectly. As no statistics were being made on the Canadian History section, Mr. Sheppard and I made a point of checking that section for the sake of curiosity. I noticed three wrong answers out of about half of the papers. Undoubtedly I missed some, as there were sixty altogether.

This letter, which I hope cleared at least some of the misunderstandings, publicly closes as far as I am concerned a situation that I never intended to get so much out of hand.

R. T. PURSER, B. Sc. I.

(The Daily is extremely disappointed that the only letters it received on the Cultural report were from members of the Committee and some discussing the statistical aspect of such tests. In view of the fact that this report attracted the editorial opinion of at least three leading Canadian newspapers and was transmitted across Canada by the Canadian Press, it is surprising that McGill students have nothing to say about the conclusions of the report.—Ed.)

As Others See It

Money Is Money

Last week The Varsity editorially attacked the idea that brewers money was tainted and suggested that the University of Toronto should avail itself of the large profits made by breweries.

The editorial was provoked by a suggestion from University College that the Brading Trophy be given a new name because of its commercial implications. The Brading Trophy is a debating prize for which four Canadian universities including McGill, and four Scottish universities compete.

The Varsity accused the U.C. students of either trying to be exhibitionists or prudes, but favored the former. Last year the I.S.S. Committee of the U. of T. had to return $100 donated by the John Labatt Co. for a raffle in aid of the Red Feather Campaign.

"This concept," said The Varsity, "of brewery money being something different and evil is widespread. But it is not completely logical. One of the largest sources of revenue for the provincial government lies in liquor taxation. One of the largest expenditures of the provincial government is directed towards education."

"In terms of taxation no one seems to mind liquor money or think of it as such. Money wrangled from the breweries' hands by the provincial government is somehow all right. On the other hand, philanthropic gestures from the brewers are looked on with doubt and suspicion. But money is money, no matter how you look at it, no matter where it comes from. If it is needed, as it is at the University of Toronto, then it should be sought from all sources."

"By all means, name the Student Union Building after O'Keefe's, if it means getting a sizeable contribution from them. McGill University has their Molson Stadium. London has its Labatt's Park. So far we have nothing from the breweries save a few scholarships."

"The breweries," concluded The Varsity, "are rich plums, ripe for the picking. The University of Toronto should not hesitate to squeeze them." O'Keefe's anyone? J. C.

Three McGill Playwrights

by Elohim Raman

On Monday night the McGill Players' Club Workshop will present five one-act plays. Three of these plays are originals. It will be the first time the Players' Club presents any original work written by students.

Three of these plays were presented to an out of town audience in Ormstown, and was received very well. Norma Springfield, director for the Players' Club's main productions said: "I am extremely gratified to see original plays not only written and produced, but to have them presented to a strange audience. I am very impressed with the quality of the plays and hope that this experiment will be carried on in future years. The idea of taking plays to small communities is one of the main reasons I wish to encourage Arena productions. People will never believe that a play can be put on so cheaply and effectively until they see it. Visits to small towns like Ormstown by groups such as the Players' Club are the water to the seedlings of Canadian Theatre."

This year three students produced original scripts.

Douglas Jones

"Anthony Delivers the New Year" was the first script brought forth. The author is Douglas Jones, Fourth year Honours English student, and a native of Bancroft, Ont. He is well-known to Daily readers as a literary critic, and some will remember him from Dawson College where he spent two years.

"Anthony Delivers the New Year" is a play about a somewhat embittered veteran who comes forth occasionally with some unsavory truths and bits of apparent insight. In the play, which takes place at a New Year's Eve party, he and a young innocent girl try to get a glimpse of what is beyond the mere triflings of superficial problems, at times uncovering a "something" beyond the surface of reality.

The play is written in verse. "I am rather wary of the verse, but to me it gives Anthony's speeches a certain rhythm which I felt was needed. I tried writing the play in prose, but it seemed to lack life, so I wrote what I felt in verse form. The play may be a bit too condensed, maybe it should be enlarged, not padded, but expanded a bit to smoothen the flow of the play. I don't know. We'll see what the audience has to say."

KEN ROSENBERG

The second young playwright to produce a script was Kenneth Rosenberg, with "A Voice in the Night." It is Rosenberg's second play. Last year the English Department's "Dramateurs" presented his first stab at playwriting: "Under this Roof." It was well received and showed that talent was not lacking in the young author.

Ken Rosenberg is a Montrealese now in fourth year Arts. He has acted in several productions: "Macbeth," "The Skin of Our Teeth," "Naked," and plays the lead in his own play "A Voice in the Night." The play is about a young neurotic who suddenly finds his world collapsing and sees the necessity of finding his way into a new life unaided by his brother. Ken is very interested in domestic drama, especially family problems and conflicts. He confesses a preference for unusual characters and a weakness for music.

George Bloomfield

The third original is by another Montrealese, George Bloomfield, a fourth year Arts student continuing in English and Philosophy who intends to go in for Social Work.

The play, "Tell Johnnie," deals with the physical and mental needs of different people. The over-emphasis on one of these aspects eventually brings forth a reaction which is apt to cause a dramatic conflict between the characters involved. The scene is any large city and there is an attempt to present the society of today. "I have no intention of moralizing in any way, nor do I offer a conclusion. I merely state the facts."

And few the Ludlow lads who linger on.

When I consider this I wow I'll try
To suffer see injustice done again,
To drain the can, and shoulder up the sky,

And live out all my three-score years and ten.
For though this life's a horror and a curse
It still makes lovely pessimistic verse.

Walt Whitman, American, has a word to say...

Hey, you!
You in the cap manufactured of the tanned hide
Of some long-defunct denized of the western plains—
Of the great rolling and democratic plains
Of this,
My America!
You.

With the five-cent cigar and the makinaw

Man in the street,
Common man,
Symbol of America,
I,

Walt Whitman,
Bard of the five-cent cigar and the tanned hide,
Singer of Manhattan and the makinaw,
The common man and the common place,
Poet of America,
Sprawling, lusty, robust, free,
Call you!

Do not loaf along!
Allons! You hear the clarion call!

Come, camerado, come!
Come! Come!
Through the teeming masses of the common men,
Coming and going in their bustling crowds

Jostling, pushing, surging, in a hurry,
Common man,
In the makinaw overcoat and the leather cap,
Man in the street, symbol of this, my America,

I am Walt Whitman,
Poet of the people,
Of Freedom and of Tolerance,
Of Progress and of Democracy,
I, Walt Whitman,
Want to borrow a match.

(This was how they did it in the good old days of yore, but alas! those days are gone forever (see the parody on Housman).)

Where are the wits of this new age? Have you no funny bone? If not, we suggest Prof. X. Plomnitz's Lightning Nerve, Brain, and Bone Tonic, guaranteed to lighten the cares of the most downcast student. We also suggest that all the funny men on campus (F.M.O.C.) dig up some of ye good old humorous and send it to us, we haven't had a laugh since last night, and we may even print what you send us. ED.)

The play was originally written for radio (and as such is being produced by the Radio Workshop) and adapted for Arena. George Bloomfield himself is directing the play and finds Arena full of possibilities. "I had not thought of Arena when I wrote the play, but now I can't see it any other way."

I feel it is the only real medium for it." The interviews ended with the three authors extending a warm invitation to all students to come and give their opinions of the plays, the acting, the production and Arena in general.

Record Eight Candidates Vie for Two A & S Posts

Arts and Science—Two to be Elected

ROBERT BION

Platform

I believe that a student election should be conducted on very different lines from a national election where self interest is the motive behind both candidate and elector.

Policy is always limited by finance and by changing circumstances. It is with this in mind that I consider qualification for office upon the S.E.C. should not be based upon promises which ordinarily attract votes but rather on the regard you have for the candidates' judgment and personality.

There are, however, two fields in which I have a particular interest, and for which, if elected, I shall do my utmost.

1. Inter-University relations both here and in Canada and throughout the world. It is of overall importance that wide personal contact be established and kept alive at the student level so that the liberal tradition of the west will not be forsaken.

2. Domestic University-Public relations. Particularly "Gee Nites" were leaders in public life are invited to speak to the student body. I shall endeavor to bridge the long neglected gap between theoretical training at university and current trends of opinion in the country at large.

I pledge myself to support these and other proposals and shall, if elected, give of my best to the faculty of Arts and Science and to McGill University.

ROBERT BION

MARY JANE FERRIER

Platform

I am very pleased to have this opportunity of outlining for you the platform which I propose for election to the Students' Executive Council. First, let me say that I will make no rash election promises only to have them lost in the shuffle when the heat of battle has died down.

However, if elected, I can promise my wholehearted support of the best interests of Arts and Science students in the Council. It is my hope to be able to work closely with the A & S and to integrate the Society's interests with those of the other undergraduate societies as expressed in the Council.

It has always been a policy of the S.E.C. to aim for the widest possible participation of students in campus life. Extracurricular activities are a very important part of this life, and should, therefore, be enjoyed by as many students as possible. It has been noted frequently, and by many people that we are apathetic towards our student life at McGill. I feel sure that some of this apathy could be dispelled by a careful investigation into the state of activities at McGill. If this survey should show that there is too much duplication of interest, or that there is not a sufficient diversity of interest in the established clubs, societies, etc., then it would be possible for the S.E.C., working with the clubs and societies, to attempt to remedy the situation. In effect, this plan is designed to clarify the picture of extracurricular activities, and thereby to encourage the participation of a larger number of students.

In part the S.E.C. has already recognized the need for variety. Recently a cultural committee was set up for the express purpose of encouraging cultural activities (on a social basis to be sure) on the campus in order to offset the over-whelming preponderance of purely social activity. This is not an attempt to curtail social affairs on the campus. Certainly not. Rather it is an attempt to add something to the campus. This committee would most certainly have my support as it would the policy which has prompted its inauguration.

These are the general policies upon which I shall act if elected to the S.E.C. In closing let me add that I can also promise interest and enthusiasm in student affairs broadened by my own experience in participating in them myself.

MARY JANE FERRIER

HALDIS JORGENSEN

Platform

I do not believe that the ability and the sincerity of a candidate can be judged solely upon the merit of the platform. There must also be the desire to further the aims of the Council. The need of a good student government cannot be overemphasized. Every organization on the campus recognizes the leadership of the Council. As the voice for the student body, the Council plays an important part not only on the campus but in the field of inter-university relations. Therefore, I should like to present the following suggestions.

1) ARTS BUILDING. The new restrictions on the entrances to the Arts building have caused much congestion. A solution to the chaos must be made, preferably one in which the main door is used as an entrance and the side door as exits.

2) GEN NIGHTS. I should encourage the reestablishment of Gen Nights. These are designed to assist the student in the planning of a career, and could be managed in conjunction with the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society.

3) A & S UNDERGRADUATE SOCIETY. As a member to the S.E.C. and representative of the Arts and Science faculty, it is necessary for the representative to act as liaison between the two committees. It would be beneficial, therefore, for the member to attend the meetings of the A & S Undergraduate Society and promote the interests of the committee.

In presenting this platform, I pledge my utmost support and co-operation to the S.E.C.

HALDIS JORGENSEN

MARVIN GAMEROFF

Platform

I do not propose to give a detailed list of promises of things which I shall attempt to do if elected. The only specific issue which I wish to mention is that if NIFCUS turns down the plan of an exchange of Russian and Canadian university students, I shall attempt to get SEC to sponsor an exchange of Russian and McGill students; for I feel, as you apparently do, that such an exchange could be very beneficial to all concerned.

Aside from this, I would like to stress that as your representative I shall give every matter that comes up my fullest attention and consideration. My decisions will be based on completely impartial and objective considerations, and my sole concern will be the general good of all the students. I am well aware of the responsibilities and duties of an SEC representative, and I am prepared to put as much effort and time into my work as your representative as will be required. I shall also welcome any suggestions which may be forthcoming from you, and shall always remember that my first duty is to those whom I represent.

MARVIN GAMEROFF

GABRIEL GLAZER

Platform

It is customary for a candidate to make several promises most of which he will never be able to carry out. I make only one promise and that is to serve the student body to the best of my ability.

I would, however, like to make a couple of suggestions which I think are of special interest to the students as a whole.

I was at Cornell University a few weeks and I saw in action an excellent example of how to cut down the price of books. Students are given a 10% discount on all purchases over $10.00. But this discount is not a cash discount. It is used to lower the price of further purchases in the students' bookstore by applying the discount to the payment of the next purchase. It works extremely well in Cornell and there is really no reason why it can't be used here. Such a move on our part will I am sure result in a substantial saving which I think we can all use.

One very important part of everyone's stay at McGill is the broadening of his or her attitude towards fellow Canadian and foreign students. The National Federation of Canadian University Students (N.F.C.U.S.) tries to do this but it can only do so more successfully if we students take a deeper interest in its work. In order to bring N.F.C.U.S. closer to the student body I would like to suggest that the N.F.C.U.S. Annual Convention take place during the academic year thus bringing us face to face with N.F.C.U.S. work. I will also do my utmost to support and press for the realization of the Canadian-Russian student exchange, which has been approved by the student body.

I will gladly listen to any suggestions by any student and will do my utmost to carry out any worthwhile ideas.

GABRIEL GLAZER

DENIS SMITH

Platform

I do not wish to make any rash promises, because I know that, if elected, I will be only one member of a large council, in which particular campaign promises are often forgotten. For this reason, my platform is general in nature, but I will strive, if I am elected, to carry it out.

First of all, I feel that definite steps should be taken to try to overcome the student apathy toward its own student society which seems to be increasing on the campus. Student indifference to organizations which serve their interests in the university, it is likely that they will also be indifferent to democracy. If we believe in our form of life, it is our responsibility to take an active interest in our student government. I think that student apathy can and should be overcome.

I also think that assistance and co-operation should be given to the New Union Building Committee. I will help that body in whatever way I can.

Above all, I will take a genuine interest in the Arts and Science students, and will work sincerely and honestly to try to represent you well.

DENIS SMITH

PAT VOS

Platform

One of the greatest lacks in the Students' Society at present is, I feel, that of contact between the Council and the student body. This is one of the main causes behind student "apathy" to questions which vitally concern them. It is one of my aims in running for a position on the Council to bring as much as possible to the students at large the important issues of Council policy, particularly those in which students are approached through the Council for their opinion on certain University matters.

If elected I shall do my best to support the work of I.S.S., especially in regard to a separate campaign. I.S.S. funds go to relieve the shocking conditions of our fellow students in Europe, Asia and the Middle East, and I do not feel that they have been given sufficient attention or support up till now.

The work of N.F.C.U.S. should be forwarded on the campus and should take a particular interest in doing all I could to ensure that the exchange of 15 students with Russia is carried through by Canadian students.

Much of the work of the Council is routine administration, and it would be hypocritical for me to make grandiose promises at this stage. I can only say that apart from the above points, which I feel to be important issues for students, I shall, if elected, do all I can for the Faculty of Arts and Science and the student body as a whole.

PAT VOS

BILL WILLMOTT

Platform

A university education includes the whole campus life as well as formal courses. Student government, an integral part of this life, has been somewhat ignored recently because of "student apathy." But much of this is due to lack of knowledge, and, if elected, I will try to ensure more adequate publicity of all SEC decisions.

An education should also include contact with other cultures in order to achieve world understanding. Therefore I endorse the Student Society's motion for an exchange with Russia, and will work to bring about such an exchange.

I will try my best to represent liberal student opinion on all issues.

Robert came to McGill in 1950 when he entered second year arts in honours economics and political science. He was educated in England, India and Egypt and consequently this varied background has given him a broad outlook which makes him well fitted to represent students of many different attitudes and interests. His clarity of perception and insight into the problems of student affairs constitute remarkable qualifications for a post of campus leadership.

This year he took the lead in the formation of a new club on the campus, the Italian Cultural Club, and his efficiency and organizational ability was clearly shown here.

Robert speaks three languages and has had the advantage of wide education and experience in many parts of the world. There is a strong need in student affairs for someone with a broad view of student problems from many points of view; especially in the field of international affairs.

Robert's experience and clear objective mind combine to make him an excellent candidate for the post of arts and science representative to the S.E.C. and we heartily recommend him for the post.

Mary-Jane Ferrier is, in our estimation, one of the most capable women students on the campus. Her record, both at school and at university well support this statement. As captain of the Debating Society, member of the Literary and Glee Club, and an active supporter of Dramatics, she showed a wide range of talent. When she entered university she soon showed great interest in student government and was elected Freshman Representative to the M.W.S.A.A. In her second year she was a member of the skiing and tennis teams and worked for the Women's Union in an unofficial capacity. Besides her club activities, such as Choral Society, she found time to contribute to Forge, the literary and Glee Club, and the Women's Union representative on the Red and White Committee for Fresh Reception, and was chairman of Fresh Reception. She was again a member of the tennis team and is an active participant in the Choral Society still.

These things alone seem merely a list of activities; it is only in knowing her own ability to channel her interest and enthusiasm that one can understand her great possibilities as a candidate for Arts and Science Representative to the Students' Executive Council.

In recommending Haldis as Arts and Science representative to the S.E.C. we feel that mention should be made of her excellent work on the Student Council at high school. For three years, she held executive positions, and was president of the Council in her final year.

At McGill she has taken an active part in various activities on the campus. In her first year she was assistant editor of the Clubs and Societies department of the McGill Annual, and a member at large of the Women's Union Executive.

She has shown enthusiasm and leadership as president of the Red Wings this year, and on the executive committee of the Combined Charities.

As an efficient, energetic and co-operative worker, we strongly recommend Haldis to the S.E.C.

Marv Gameroff is probably well known to most of you, as his activities are many and varied.

He was president of first year, and then of second in the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society. One of his achievements was indeed remarkable and commendable. In 1950 he sponsored and led a drive to provide Christmas gifts for disabled veterans, and this drive was overwhelmingly successful. Those who aided in the distribution of the gifts will surely recall the happy faces of the recipients.

Marv has been active in the social field as well. He was in charge of a very successful pep rally dance last year. In addition to this, he was active in other social activities of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society.

In athletics Marv is a fairly familiar figure. He played with the intermediate football team this year, and was also a member of the intermediate track team.

Marv has been very active in debating. This year he is in charge of inter-faculty debating and is on the executive of the McGill Debating Union. He has done a considerable amount of debating himself, both on the inter-class and inter-collegiate levels. Last year he received a SEC "A" award for debating, and was also on the team which won the Arts and Science Debating Championships.

Those of you who have attended the Model Parliament held at McGill will also recall that Marv has often contributed to discussion of various political topics.

Thus Marv is a serious, responsible student who has had experience in many fields of activity at McGill. Having had this experience, he is well aware of the problems which exist in student government, and which must be considered by an SEC representative. Last year he was elected to Scarlet Key. This year he is asking for your confidence and support of him as your SEC representative. His past experience and achievements warrant your vote.

Gabe Glazer, a graduate of Strathcona Academy, was winner of the Strathcona Public Speaking Contest and was distinguished in debating.

Upon coming to McGill he spent his first year at Dawson College where he actively took part in intercollegiate hockey.

It was through the effort and organization of Gabe that the McGill World Student Federalist Society was organized and became an active force on the campus.

A popular figure at Hillier House and on the campus, he is now the president and driving force behind the Intercollegiate Zionist Federation of America in this city. Although a new group, I.Z.F.A. has grown into a large and enthusiastic body under Gabe's leadership.

His ability to organize and lead such groups as the Federalists and the Zionists are striking examples of his capability in organization and leadership. We have every confidence in recommending Gabe, and we are certain that he will fill his position in the best interests of the student body.

Denis Smith, we are sure, would be an able SEC representative of the students of Arts and Science. He was president of his high school students' union in Edmonton, Alberta, and entered second year at McGill on a J. W. McConnell Memorial Scholarship. Last year, he managed the Arts and Science Intercollegiate hockey teams. He is at present a member of the McGill N.F.C.U.S. Committee, and a staff member of the 1952 Winter Carnival.

Above all, Denis is a sincere student, he plans to study international law after graduation. His quiet and sincere manner has won him the respect of all those who have met him. We feel that he is worthy of your unqualified support.

We, the undersigned, have no hesitation in recommending Pat Vos for the position of Arts and Science representative to the S.E.C. Her capacity for sound and objective judgment would be a valuable asset to the Council.

We feel that Pat is ideally suited to be a student representative since she has maintained interest and activity in the intellectual aspect of University life, as well as obtaining valuable experience in organizational and administrative activities.

Pat, a student in Honours English, is at present women's Vice President of the Debating Union Society and placed second last year in the Women's Oratory Contest. Last year she also joined the Editorial Board of Forge, the McGill literary magazine, in which some of her work has appeared in the last two issues. Her talent in this field was recognized in her appointment as Editor-in-Chief of the magazine this year. She has also shown what a clear brain and sound judgement can do in more routine matters representing organization in her work for the Winter Carnival and I.S.S. committees.

We feel that a student Council Representative should not only have organizational ability and an intelligent, objective mind, but should also have a broad understanding of the intellectual side of student interest and activity. This last quality is especially important in a representative from Arts and Science.

Knowing well that Pat Vos possesses all these qualities to an exceptionally high degree, we heartily recommend her for a position on the council.

Margery came to McGill in 1950, from Three Rivers, where she was very active in school organizations. She wrote a school column in the Three Rivers newspaper, was on the high school student board for 3 years, was chairman of 2 proms and maintained a high scholastic average. Continuing her activities at McGill, she participates in MOC programmes, skis, plays tennis and is on the Features Staff of the McGill Annual. We feel that Margery, having already proved her executive ability, is a conscientious and enthusiastic worker and would be an asset to any organization.

Vice - Presidents: Nino Gualtieri, John J. Jonas.
Secretary: Gerald Charness, Harvey Crestoli, E. B. Newcomb, Larry Weinberg.
Four positions of "member at large" on the Women's Union executive are being contested by nine co-eds. One is to be in first year, three in "second or third year."

Two of these representatives must be resident and two non-resident; those polling the most votes in these categories will therefore be declared elected. Only co-eds are eligible to vote.

First Year: Virginia Clare, Betty Ann Halpenny, Elaine Newman.
Second or Third Year: Carole Beaudoin, Margery Clark, Molly Glynn, Anne Irwin, Pauline Mowat, Joan Walker.

HAM QUAIN

Pen Sketch

The Student's Executive Council as the highest body in student government at McGill University requires certain qualifications of its representatives, for it can only be as successful as the calibre of its individuals. We feel that those qualifications which are essential are mature reasoning, initiative and keen interest.

We the undersigned feel that Ham Quain is the candidate whose character, training and interests undoubtedly qualify him for the position.

Born in Ottawa, Ham Quain came to McGill in 1947 where he received his B. Comm. in 1950 and his B.A. from Ottawa University by summer courses in the same year. Ham has earned the respect of his fellow students by his academic record, his capacity for work and his versatility.

Concurrently with his law course Ham Quain is taking his final year in Chartered Accountancy.

In spite of a rigorous academic schedule Ham has still found time to indulge in sports. He played on the Intercollegiate Tennis Team 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951, and Squash Team 1948, 1949 and 1950 and was McGill Champion in both sports several times.

Having shown this capacity for work and leadership in the past, and having inspired our confidence in his ability to ably represent the law students, we consider it a privilege to nominate Ham Quain as S.E.C. Representative for Law.

1. I am very much in agreement with the noticeable increase of international and cultural activities at McGill. I will do everything possible to encourage and support this trend.

2. I will give my fullest co-operation at all times to the law undergraduate society, in their programs and activities.

3. I feel that I am sufficiently aware of the responsibility of membership in the council to fulfill all the general requirements as well as my specific duties on the Constitutional Committee of the Council.

4. I realize that the position will require a willingness on my part to devote a great deal of time and energy to the varied problems entailed in campus administration. I elected I will make every effort to fulfill my responsibilities to the best of my ability, and to the satisfaction of the student body.

Marv, a second year law student is well suited to represent his faculty. His genial affability has won him the friendship of everyone he has worked with. We feel that he will undoubtedly fulfill any and all the requirements entailed in his job. Part of our conviction stems from our personal association with him, but the larger part can be ascribed to having objectively noticed his competence and success in every one of his undertakings.

The diversification of his activities has given him a wide insight into the workings of all types of campus administration. Since his arrival at McGill he has served as a member of the inter-university debating committee, in N.P.C.U.S. as a member of the International Student Service Committee. Marv has been active in inter mural sports such as tennis and squash, and also in the field of public speaking. All things considered we feel he is the outstanding candidate for the office.

Since coming to McGill he has been active in intramural sports, and is presently Sec.-Thes. of Second Year Law. We feel that he will perform the functions of Law S.E.C. BETTY ANN HALPENNY

Pen Sketch

Born and brought up in Ottawa, Betty-Ann attended Nepean high school where she was very active in student affairs. She was a member of the Girls' Athletic Association, the Student Council, and her class executive. The fact that she was president of the Girls' H.Y. shows her ability to organize others and to accept responsibility herself.

As her course shows Betty-Ann is interested in working with people. She is in first year physiotherapy. Although this is only her first year at McGill, she has made many contacts. I think that as member-at-large she would be able to devote considerable time and energy to the activities of the Women's Union.

We have 20% of the students and 5% of the S.E.C. votes. We should have, at the very least, 10% of votes, i.e. two members.

George entered McGill in 1942 at the age of fifteen by special dispensation. After spending three years in Science he transferred to Commerce, receiving his B. Com. in 1948. He served his apprenticeship to become a Chartered Accountant with P. S. Ross and Sons, a prominent C.A. firm, and continued his accounting studies at McGill Night School. He commenced Engineering at Dawson in the fall of 1949, continuing to study accounting in Montreal in the evenings.

During this time at McGill, George held the following offices and belonged to the following clubs: Vice President Mechanical Engineering Club, President Arts and Science 1, Douglas Hall of Residence Social Committee, Athletics Representative Faculty of Arts and Science, President Co-Weds Club (Dawson College), Sergeant-McGill C.O.T.C., Assistant Band Master McGill University Band, McGill Outing Club, Cosmopolitan Club, The Graduates Society of McGill University, Student Member of Engineering Institute of Canada, Student Member Institute of Chartered Accountants (Province of Quebec).

He is also Demonstrator in the Industrial Option, Department of Mechanical.

We feel that due to George's many and varied activities in student affairs he is well qualified to uphold the engineering point of view in any and all Students Executive Council Discussions.

Commerce

PETER CAMERON

Platform

Since the post of Treasurer of the S.E.C. has been traditionally filled by the Commerce Representative, I will confine my remarks to questions of finance, and leave also, for the present, the broader implication of office. My major aim would be to promote S.E.C.-C.U.S. relations, but were I to be elected, there are several matters which would receive my special consideration.

At present, the Students Society of McGill have adequate reserves which amount to some $33,000. I feel that the Student, who pays $15.00 yearly to the S.E.C., could and should receive more value for his money. This could be accomplished in the following ways:

1. Last year, the S.E.C. made a profit of $2,200 on McGill dances. I feel strongly that future ticket prices should coincide more nearly with the costs involved.

2. Meal prices at the Union could be maintained or even lowered, at the same time giving the student more diversification in the available meals.

3. The S.E.C. should underwrite the Commerce Plant Tours, since these tours are peculiar to Commerce alone. This would enable the C.U.S., with more money available, to give Commerce students a better Common Room, and Commerce intramural teams would receive better equipment.

4. Since the only men who have adequate financial training are Commerce students, I would like to see more Commerce men in the Students Society organization. The assistant Finance Chairman should be a Commerce man, and very important, the Union should have a Secretary-Treasurer — also a Commerce student.

I would like to see the present scale of capital repairs to the Union somewhat reduced, and more financial and executive effort be extended with a view to planning a new McGill Union.

With the above points in mind, I can only add that I will do my best to have them endorsed by the S.E.C. To any problems of general student interest which may arise during my proposed tenure of office, I will give my wholehearted support, and will endeavour at all times to be truly representative of my Faculty.

Peter Cameron

Pen Sketch

It is with great confidence that we recommend Peter Cameron for the position of Commerce Representative on the S.E.C. Since he is an undergraduate in 1948, Pete has gained experience in various campus activities, and is now recognized by all who know him as a reliable and efficient worker.

The following are Activities in which Pete has taken part:

1) Athletic Nights — 1948-49.
2) Winter Carnival — 1949. Chairman Transportation 49-50. Finance Chairman 50-51 (Budget of $15,000). Vice-Chairman 51-52.
3) Blood Donor Clinic 1949.
4) Combined Charities 1949.
5) Scarlet Key — Member for Commerce 49-50, Adviser 50-51.
6) Intermediate Football 48-49.
7) Student Mess Treasurer C.O.T.C. 49-50.

Because of his wide interest and experience, especially in financial activities pertaining to all fields of student activity, we have no hesitation in recommending Peter Cameron to represent the Commerce students on the S.E.C.

DON JOSS

Platform

It has been said that there are no real issues involved in the election of the Commerce Representative to the S.E.C. I take exception to this statement. The Commerce representative holds a position of great influence and vast importance. He is the sole representative of Commerce on this important body and is in charge of all the finances of the S.E.C.

Thus, fully aware of these facts, I propose:

1. An immediate recognition of a separate FACULTY OF COMMERCE. No longer would Commerce be known as a School under the Faculty of Arts and Science.

2. An immediate increase in the allocations of funds to the Commerce Undergraduate Society. At present we receive one dollar per student, but this MUST be raised. If it is not, we will ration ourselves due to the rising costs connected with tours and banquets, thus necessitating the suspending of many of these valuable activities.

3. The redistribution of the $33,000 reserve surplus. For the present $13,000 Reserve for Contingencies would be lowered and the difference would be assigned to a special Reserve for the Construction of a New Union.

The actual construction of the Union, however, would be forgone for a year or two while the abnormally high raw material prices persist. This would allow a larger reserve to be accumulated and when the proper time for construction arrived, the S.E.C. would be prepared for it.

Finally, this is a period of great prosperity for the S.E.C. and it should be their policy to prepare for a rainy day. Sound administration and acute attention to the S.E.C. is of prime importance and will be fully dealt with if I am elected.

Don Joss

Pen Sketch

We, the undersigned, feel that the position of Commerce Representative on the Students Executive Council is only surpassed in importance by that of the President. This position entails the handling of all S.E.C. funds and the allotment of these funds to all the various departments. Not only does this position require constant and efficient administration but it is also necessary that the person in this office be in possession of considerable skill and experience in such matters.

In view of this fact we believe that Don Joss would be the most capable person to hold this position.

Don came to the University as a graduate of the Belleville Collegiate in Belleville, Ontario. While he was a student there he participated in many student functions. Among his activities were:

1. Secretary-Treasurer of the Boys' Athletic Society.
2. Financial Manager of all School Sports.
3. Business Manager of the School Annual.
4. Active Member of the Student Council.

Since he has come to McGill he has taken an active interest in Political Affairs on the Campus. He was also a member of the International Relations Club. Not only has he taken an active part in Student Finance but he has had much practical experience in the business world. He shows a keen interest and inventive ability in whatever tasks he undertakes. Finally, he is not only active in Student Affairs, but he is an above average student in his academic studies.

Therefore, because of these qualifications, we are confident that Don is the right man for the job.

Destroyed by Fire

Williamstown, Mass. (Exchange). — A $60,000 fire burnt Princeton's Campus Club to the ground recently. The fire was discovered in the second floor linen closet just after the seventy-five couples who had been attending a dance had left.

It appeared that the blaze had been caused by faulty wiring in a fuse box. The flames quickly spread through a laundry chute and were burning fiercely when firemen arrived.

Although no one was hurt, the fire was described as the worst of

Women's Union Vice-President

MARY ANN CURRIE

Platform

The purpose of the Women's Union is to promote activities of interest to women students and to provide facilities for their welfare, such as the women's common room. Much has been done in the past to achieve these aims which I feel are of significance to all coeds. The various clubs and societies, whether cultural, intellectual or purely social, are projects worthy of encouragement. The facilities provided for women are continually in need of attention to keep them up to date.

This year an increased membership of the Women's Union will to see a keener participation by all students, resident and nonresident, in its activities.

As Vice-President of the Women's Union I would consider it my duty to work in its interests, broadening the scope of its influence; as its representative on the Student's Executive Council, I would uphold its point of view.

Pen Sketch

As grand daughter of a member of the first class of women graduates of McGill, Mary Anne Currie has inherited a natural and devoted loyalty to the Women's Union, her excellent work resulted in her appointment to the position of Vice-President of the Women's Union to which she has been nominated by reason of her experience in the many activities in which she has played an important part.

Ann participated in a great variety of campus events. She showed executive ability in the Combined Charities campaign of 1950 and 1951 as chairman of important committees. As Art editor of the 1951 annual, her excellent work resulted in her appointment to the position of 1952. In sports Mary Anne is manager of the women's ski team, and intercity basketball team of 1951. She has contributed posters and publicity material for the M.O.C. and is an active member of the Choral Society.

Mary Anne is amiable and co-operative and has a pleasing personality. With such a background of executive experience and practical performance her qualifications for the position are unusually impressive.

JOEY HANLON

Platform

My platform consists mainly in trying to carry out the wishes of the women of McGill on the S.E.C. As the Women's Union is the only body on campus representing the women of McGill, it is important that the ideas presented to the Women's Union by its members should be brought to the attention of the S.E.C. This is what I hope to do if elected, and I feel that the Women's Union should attain a position of primary importance in Students Executive Council.

A greater interest should be taken in the Women's Union activities such as the Lecture Series, the Fashion Show, Miss McGill to name a few. My hope is that the women of McGill will participate in their Union to a greater extent. While I can make no rash promises, my aim is to stimulate this interest and I elected to serve the Women's Union to the best of my ability.

JOEY HANLON

Pen Sketch

Two essentials of a representative to the student, or any other organization, are first, that he be a person of conviction who will make considered decisions and stand for what he believes right; second, he must have a clear judgment to enable him to discriminate in his choice.

We the undersigned believe that Joey Hanlon possesses these two characteristics and therefore give her our support.

Joey came to McGill in 1949, from the States where she graduated from school, second in her class, and was vice president of the student government.

In her two and a half years at McGill, while maintaining high scholastic standards, she has proved her executive ability, as well as shown a sense of responsibility in her unwillingness to stint of her time in any position. She was second year Member at Large of the Women's Union; member of the McGill Publications Committee, and as such, editor of "Miss McGill," member of the Arts and Science Social Committee; representative of the R. V. C. House Government; and member of the Transportation Committee of the Winter Carnival. In addition to participating in numerous other time consuming jobs.

Her activities are indicative in themselves and show what we who know her feel; that Joey has achieved a balance in her college life and a proportion and sense of values which are the essentials of an executive. We feel that she will justify the students' confidence and her election will bring a person of stability, experience and imagination to the S.E.C. and the Women's Union.

JILL HUTCHINSON

Platform

I would like to thank everyone who has nominated me for the position of Vice President of the Women's Union. If elected, I would endeavour to aid the President as much as possible and to carry out the duties assigned to me.

I believe that the women of McGill would take a more active interest in their Union if they were better informed about its work and policy. I would like to see the Women's Union magazine "Miss McGill" used for this purpose. It should be published regularly and include reports of meetings at which important issues of interest to all the women are being discussed. To develop closer contact between the executive of the Women's Union and the student body, there should be space in the magazine for letters to the Editor where the ideas and opinions of the students could be published and thus brought to the attention of the President. It should also include news of active women on the campus.

If I am elected, I will try to see that the proposed redecoration of the Women's Common Room in the Arts Building is carried out to the satisfaction of the students.

Jill Hutchinson

Pen Sketch

Before coming to McGill, Jill went to Trafalgar where she took part in many of the school's activities. In the last two years she has been busy with executive positions in an off-the-campus organization. She was a member of the Choral Society two years in which she took an active interest and helped with the advertisement of its concerts. She is now holding the position of circulation manager "Miss McGill."

Jill is hardworking and conscientious. We believe that as a member of the Women's Union and the Student's Executive Council, she would be an excellent representative of all the women at McGill as she has been both a resident and a day student.

RUSTY HUNTER

Platform

The Daily has paid little heed to the voice of the Engineer in the past. Since we represent approximately twenty percent of the campus body, it is my opinion, that we should have a greater recognition in its columns. Here is a group in the Engineering faculty now, that are keen to do something about this voice; only they have been discouraged by the attitude of some members of the Daily. We should give these students the opportunity to brighten up the interest in our faculty, and lend the colour of the Engineers to the rest of the campus.

In view of last year's failure to obtain a distinctive jacket for the undergraduates and since this still holds a strong interest I should like to present to the S.E.C. for adoption several designs I feel would satisfy this desire for a McGill recognition.

There are a few of my views concerning the engineering voice on the S.E.C. I can assure you that in any problems arising in the Students Council, I will uphold the opinions of the majority, and see that they are carried through to the best of my ability.

In the fall of 1945 he enrolled in McGill and spent the following year at Dawson College. At McGill his interest was shown in extra-curricular activities as he was elected President of the McGill Players Club in 1948 which under his leadership entered the Canadian Drama Festival. They terminated the following year by winning the Western Regional Drama Festival. At the same time he was a member of the M.O.C., French, and Cosmo clubs.

As every good engineer knows, all well constructed platforms require a strong supporting beam. The key member of this platform is a continuous, unflinching support of the interests of every engineer in all campus activities.

Upon being elected I will strive to institute the following four points:

1. To see that at least some of the profits of the Bookstore are distributed in such a manner as to directly benefit the engineers.

2. To make representations through the S.E.C. to the Athletics Department to improve the seating arrangements at the football games.

3. To attempt to increase representation of the Faculty of Engineering in the S.E.C. At present

(Many is the time that a song title revives memories of a certain period in one's life. The memories may bring a lump to the throat, or a feeling of relief that a particular phase is past. But the song or the tune itself does enable us to recapture, for a moment at least, events well behind us.)

This observer has found various song titles bring to mind events past and present in the McGill sport scene. And so, in the list of songs to follow, it should be interesting to note just what is brought to mind.)

Where Are You Now that I Need You: This might be the wailing of Rocky Robillard, resulting from the absence of Knutson and Marchessault from this year's hockey team.

Hoop-de-doo: The basketball season has started.

Long Ago and Far Away: McGill's last football championship was back in 1938.

My Dream is Yours: That we may someday win a football title.

It's Whatcha Do with Watcha Got: Ask Vic Obeck or Rocky Robillard. Or better still ask Joe Anderson.

Little White Lies: All that stuff you read last year about the Redmen being the greatest McGill McGill football team of them all.

More Than I Care to Remember: The day Western murdered the Redmen in London 56-5 back in 1947.

It's Too Soon to Know: It's not possible to judge this season's hockey team so early in the schedule.

No One But You: This one used to be dedicated to Murray Hayes in the black McGill football days.

Again: No doubt everyone was moaning this lament after Toronto obliterated McGill football title holder this fall, making it the third "so near and yet so far" season in succession.

Bewildered: This state is also applicable to that final football game.

Blue Prelude: The few days left before Friday night when the Varsity Blues (hockey edition) come to town.

It's Better to Conceal than Reveal: Obeck will tell you that when your team is being scouted, don't show the team's best plays.

Perhaps, Perhaps, Perhaps: Next year may be the big one in football.

Don't Cry Joe: This won't be necessary because Anderson, despite a dearth of talent, is doing a great job with his basketball quintet.

Too Marvelous for Words: The play of Crain and Pullar this fall.

Fool's Paradise: A place for people who think that a college coach must win at any cost.

Maybe You'll Be There: The thought running through the mind of a passer in football as he lets it go blindly on being rushed, or a hockey player as he passes the puck out in front of the net without looking first.

Sin: What Toronto did to McGill in water polo last week-end.

It Isn't Fair: Pertains to that same water polo game.

You've Changed: What Ashton must have said to his team after the debacle. The boys had been going well before being bounced by the Blues.

Jealousy: If a team has any of this, it can kiss its chances goodbye.

As We Are Today: It's the present that counts in sport as in anything else. Last year's laurels don't do any good today.

It's So Good: Sport in general.

It's All Over Now: This column.

Fencers Duel, Prep for Meet

Although their schedule is not definite as yet, the 1951-52 edition of the Senior Intercollegiate Fencing Team is slowly rounding into shape under the able guidance of coach George Tully, who is hoping that the championship form of last year will be repeated.

Due to a slight misunderstanding, there will not be any bouts presented at Athletics Night 1. But you can bet your last dollar that the fellows and gals will be raring to go when Athletics Night 2 rolls around.

The compulsory sports program for freshmen has aroused much interest in fencing and much work is being accomplished which would otherwise have been impossible.

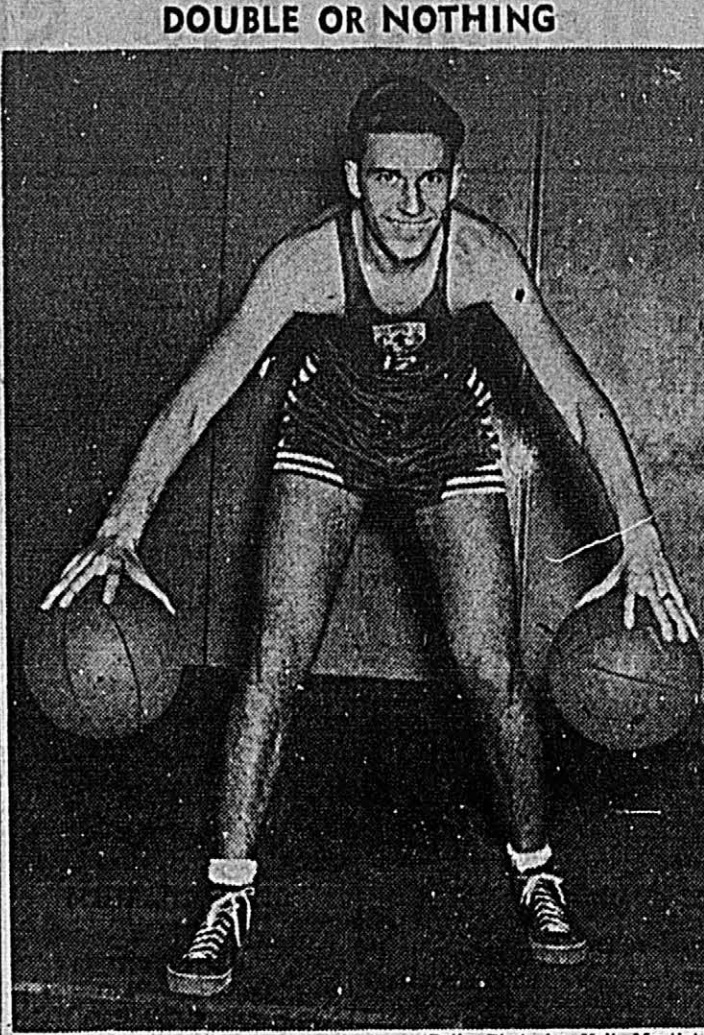

This Thursday night, the Province of Quebec Fencing Association is holding a meeting to discuss the possibility of having monthly tournaments. These bouts would involve such teams as Y.M.H.A., Palestra Nationale and, of course, McGill, with the site of the contests to be their respective gyms.

As well, McGill is clamoring for a change in the Intercollegiate set up. At present, a team consists of four men who all compete in the three weapons, foil, sabre and epee. McGill is trying to get a nine man team, three men competing for each weapon. The change has been presented but as yet Toronto hasn't approved.

Practices are held twice a week, on Monday and Thursday evenings at 7.00, in the Turner-Bone Room at the gym. All those interested are invited to turn out.

Coach Smiley Smiles, Cagers Display Wiles

By SOL TOLCHINSKY
Harry "Smiley" Wilson coach of the 1951-52 edition of the intermediate basketball team, enjoys a reputation of owning a winning smile. "Smiley" Wilson, however, is not content with the possession of this admirable trait, but wishes to extend this winning smile into a winning club.

As junior member of the triumvirate of new coaches he hopes that the old maxim about "birds of feather" is a reliable one. He points to the results of the opening game tussle between the Laval pucksters and Rocky Robillard's victorious Redmen, and the admirable showing put on by Joe Anderson's senior cagers against Clarkson and St. Lawrence as evidence of the good work that has been done by those two teams and their coaches.

Smiley hopes that lightning will strike not only two times in the same place, but three times.

Coach Wilson, though proud to be a member of the "big three" knows that his team will not win basketball games by studying the praises heaped on the other two, and with that in mind has doggedly set his team to work for its opening game this Saturday night against Macdonald College, at Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Wilson has been drilling his team six days a week for two hours a day in fast breaks, patterned plays and defensive strategy. As the team has enough tall men, Smiley feels that rebound difficulties will iron out by themselves.

At the present time the inters are carrying thirteen men and conference rules necessitate the dropping of three men before the opening game. Wilson has kept as secretive as the Sphinx and is not anticipating the team lineup before he has seen the players through their paces for the rest of this week.

The players coach Wilson is relying on to carry the men for him into Saturday's fray against the Aggies are of varied basketball experience. They are, Marty Resnick, a member of the 1949 Intermediate Dawson entry in the M.B.L., John Galleau, a former Georgian hoopster, and forward from Western Canada, Earl Merling, intermediate football star, and brother of Sheldon, center on the Senior squad, Irving Wolf, tall center, Jules Blond, Rolly Gallay, Ed Tarasofsky, Al Frossard, Don Walsh, Ben Laidlaw, and Graham Tuttle.

The results of Saturday night's game should be a fair indication of the potentialities of this year's intermediate basketball team, and Coach Wilson is optimistic of the outcome.

Times Hard, Basketballers Moan Intercollegiate Quintets Blanked

By LEN WISSE

The general consensus of opinion of the man in the street these days is that things aren't like the 'good old days'. Times are hard, he says. We are in an inflationary era and he sees no relief in sight.

Seemingly bearing out this contention is the intercollegiate basketball action to date. Apparently this is to be a year of lean pickings for the college cagers.

The past week-end, three of the five teams in the Intercollegiate Union played exhibition games. McGill journeyed to Clarkson and St. Lawrence for the Redmen's first games of the season. Toronto on Hobart, Hamilton and Colgate in the course of a three day road trip.

The Queen's Gaels, third of the teams in question, was the only one to stay on native soil. They played the Tillsonburg Trojans in their second start of the year.

Of these five games, the CIAU squads won the grand total of none. McGill took it on the chin, twice to the tunes of 67-43 and 60-52.

Toronto came out on the short end three times. On Thursday night, the Blues, in their 1951-52 debut, lost 48-42 to Hobart whom they had beaten 43-41 at Toronto the year before. The second game, against Hamilton College the following night, also saw a reversal of '50 form. The Yanks, playing

This was the second loss in two start for the Tindallmen. The first came at the hands of the Pine Camp Colonels, an American army base quintet. The score was 54-51. As the saying goes 'things are tough all over.'

The Redmen are determined to end their losing ways which set in last weekend. The Andersonmen make their appearance before the home folks on Saturday night. The occasion is Athletics Nights I and the opposition will be provided by the Curry College Coronels of Boston.

With close to 2,000 people expected to sit in on the proceedings, the Redmen will be out to take the rubber game of the series with the Americans that started two years ago.

A good deal of the local team's difficulties during the first two games stemmed from defensive defects. Accordingly, in practices held last night and the night before, Coach Anderson has been working the boys on their defense as well as polishing up their stock of plays and adding to them.

The team's scoring statistics for the first two games follow:

	F.G.	F.T.	TOTAL
Anderson	1	1	3
Cunningham	2	2	6
Findlay	4	0	8
Garbuz	6	1	13
Klein	0	1	1
Merling	7	4	18
Tissenbaum	11	5	27

Volleyball Competition Enters Sports' Slate

By JOAN PESNER
For the first time in women's athletic history at McGill, co-ed intramural volleyball was staged last night at the RVC Gym. In the first game, first year Phys. Ed. students were defeated by a slim two-point margin, when a battling Physio team downed them 26-28. Two teams representing Arts combined efforts to earn a 32-30 victory over a third and fourth year Physical Education squad.

Instead of the usual 21 point limit, each game was divided into two fifteen-minute halves.

The first point in the Physio-Phys. Ed. game went to the former, as the quickly-paced competition began. Physio kept up the lead and Phys. Ed. freshmen lagged behind until Norma Easr boosted up their score with several well-placed serves. But Phys. Ed. dropped behind again and the end of the first half saw the score 15-8 for Physio.

Physio struggled to maintain their lead when a Phys. Ed. rally tied the score and threatened to overtake their opponents. The 3 minutes' overtime ended with the final score 28-26 in favour of Physio.

A well-organized and powerful Arts team surprised many of the spectators, by trouncing the favoured phy. ed squad. Due to a misunderstanding, two crews from this faculty turned out, and the managers agreed that each would play one-half of the game.

In the first half, the arts team showed fine teamwork, and ran up a score of 19-12. A squad comprised totally of RVC residents, took over during the last fifteen minutes. Serves on both sides changed very quickly, and the reason for this was the inability of both teams to pick up the serves and returns. Less teamwork and more individual play was more prominent on this half's arts team.

With a sudden outburst of strength, the Phys. Ed. scored several points, and came within two points of tying up the game. But a determined arts group kept up their defence, and held off their opponents successfully.

Intramural competition will continue every Tuesday evening between teams entered from all faculties. Games will take the form of a single round robin, and the team with the highest point will be crowned intramural volleyball champions. There are still vacancies on several of the teams, and all girls interested should contact either the volleyball manager or their faculty representatives.

Boxers Practice, BWF Room Resounds

The B.W. & F. room of the Currie Gym is a hive of activity every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon as conditioning is the key note for the Red Pugilists. The boys are preparing for the weekly bouts held every Saturday on a competitive basis.

Second in the weekly series will be the practice bouts scheduled for the coming Saturday at 2 p.m. sharp. Coach Bert Light is on the lookout for any chap experienced in boxing and who has an inclination to try out for the McGill team. Those interested are urged to turn out on any of the practice days at the B.W. & F. room and have a word with coach.

In preparation for the city tournament's heavyweight championship contest is Red boxer Jim Miller. Miller is as yet opponentless in the heavyweight field for the weekend bouts.

Union President

DANNY KINGSTONE

Platform

Last year's Union House Committee, of which I was a member, formulated plans for the renovating and repair of the McGill Union. The results to date are a newly painted Cafeteria, and Ballroom, a complete cleaning and painting of the Union basement, a New Club Room in the basement to provide an extra room for meetings. However, it is not for these past accomplishments that I ask you to vote for me, but rather for the ones I propose to do this year if I am elected.

1. Purchase a new dishwashing machine to ensure cleaner cutlery, dishes and glasses.
2. Purchase a steam table for the Cafeteria so that the staff can prepare the meals well in advance, thereby speeding up serving, while still keeping the meals hot.
3. Unfortunately the Grill Room is too small to accommodate all who desire to eat there; however, by erecting a proper bar system with the cashier at the end, we may acquire speedier service.
4. Purchase more chairs for the Grill Room to accommodate more students.
5. Purchase of chairs for the Ballroom so that clubs and societies will not have to rent them each time they need them.
6. Installation of a juke box or music machine in the Grill Room.
7. Put pictures, etc., on the walls of the eating places, lounge and New Club Room.
8. Feature more events such as the Model Parliament in the Union. By bringing down speakers and musicians, as well as entertainers, the Union can be made the centre of all student interests and perhaps the college spirit, now so sadly lacking, could be given a boost.

Danny Kingstone.

Pen Sketch

Those of us who have worked with Danny and have known him these past years, endorse him as our candidate for the Union presidency, without any doubt or hesitation.

We believe that the job of Union president should go to a man who is familiar with its administrative problems, is able to establish a sound and satisfactory policy, and is capable of undertaking the responsibilities that go with the position. And therefore, because of his past experience and accomplishments, we feel that Dan is the man for the job.

Danny is an Honours student in Political Science. In the years he has been at McGill he has:

- 1) Won the Bovey Shield for public speaking.
- 2) Debating executive
- 3) Combined Charities executive
- 4) Winter Carnival executive
- 5) Chairman, Pep Rally committee
- 6) Chairman, Dates Committee
- 7) Secretary McGill Union
- 8) Signing Officer, McGill Union
- 9) Vice-President, McGill Union

He has performed all these jobs well, and we are sure if Dan is elected he will continue to carry out the wishes of McGill students.

Not All of S.E.C. Faces Vote Now

As well as those undergraduate representatives being voted for on Wednesday's elections there are other members of the executive who are not elected at this time. The President and Vice president of the Society are elected at other times during the school year.

The President of the McGill Union, and the President of the Women's Union are also members of the Council. These posts are usually filled by election at another time also, but the resignation of this year's Union President has necessitated a by-election for this post. This by-election will be held along with the usual SEC elections.

Three members of the Executive are not elected at all. These are the Comptroller, who is appointed by the University on the Council's recommendation, the Secretary-Treasurer, and the Editor-in-Chief of the Daily. The Secretary-Treasurer is chosen by the Council, is not a student and has a salary paid by the Society.

Union Vice-President

NINO GUALTIERI

Platform

Since my election to Secretary of the McGill Union last spring I have acquired a full insight into the needs and possibilities of the Union. During the last three months my chief duty has been the supervision of the Union Food Service, and consequently I am especially concerned that this be developed to the fullest advantage to all students.

If elected, therefore, I would stress the following improvements:

1. A new dish washer. The cafeteria is now big business serving well over 300 meals a day. I have obtained estimates and though this involves a major expenditure, it is necessary for the health and convenience of students who eat in the Union.
2. Increased variety and quality of food and attempt, wherever possible, to lower food prices.
3. Additional chairs and tables for the Grill room to mitigate crowded conditions. Also enforce the regulations forbidding coats on chairs. If the existing cloak room is found inadequate, extra racks will be installed where feasible.
4. Other improvements of a general nature include:

- (1) Additional pictures to decorate walls (I have already started this project and the first pictures will go up in the new Club room within a few days.)
 - (2) Program of campus wide cultural activities similar to Hart House, Toronto. The hope of past Union Executives that the Union would serve as a centre of student life has not yet been fully realized. This scheme would be worked out in conjunction with the existing Cultural Committee.
 3. In conclusion, I assure all campus organizations will be granted my interest and co-operation in scheduling their extra-curricular activities.
- Nino Gualtieri.

Pen Sketch

We, the undersigned, strongly recommend Nino Gualtieri for the post of Vice-President of the Men's Union. Nino has been a member of a variety of campus affairs, he has proven his executive ability, his energy and his capacity for sound judgment. His interests have been of the broad and varied nature that is extremely important for the filling of an executive post in the Men's Union.

Nino has been an active member of the Writer's Club and Literature Society and served last year as Publicity Director. He is now Secretary Treasurer. He has also shown interest in the field of debating, participating in inter-class competition and representing McGill in the M.D.L. But Nino's interests are not confined to the intellectual field. He has taken an active part in the Arts and Science Athletic teams, frequently serving as manager. Nino is also active in the Reserve University Flight of the R.C.A.F. and has broadened here his experience and knowledge. Above all we would emphasize that Nino has had experience in Union administration and in virtue of this he is familiar with the Union's needs and potentialities. Last Spring he was elected Secretary of the Union and subsequently showed great interest and competence in Union affairs.

In view of this, we urge strongly the election of Nino Gualtieri as a man of proven executive ability.

JOHN JONAS

Platform

Student responsibilities affiliated with the Union have brought me to realize the following requirements:

1. Full support of the New Union Committee.
2. Continuation of the Crepeau five-year plan. As the new Union is still some years off, I am definitely for finishing the renovation of the present building. This program includes: a. Renovation of Main Lobby (especially lighting and front doors). b. Air conditioning of Ballroom. c. Completion of basement renovations. d. Cleaning of building exterior.
3. The short-order bar now serves over 300 meals daily. For proper service and cleanliness, the purchase of another steam-table ($250.00) and dishwasher ($200.00) is required.
4. The only solution to the Grill-room problem is removal of the steel bar and repositioning of the cash. A foolproof system has been devised to speed up service in this congested area.
5. Acquisition of a turntable and records and availability of suitable room enabling clubs to hold parties in the Union without undue expense.
6. The purchase of a stock of folding tables and chairs on a yearly proportionate basis. Stored in the attic, they would save a considerable amount of rental money.
7. Continuation of the efficient allocation of dates by the Dates Committee through a thorough study of campus and city-wide activities thus decreasing the number of financially unsuccessful dances.

John J. Jonas.

The position of Vice-President of the McGill Union is one of increasing importance and consequently requires a considerable amount of a student's time. For this reason we wish to emphasize that John Jonas, our candidate is a University Scholar who this year acquired the highest academic honors available to a third year student in Engineering. What working in a great variety of campus affairs, he has proven his executive ability, his energy and his capacity for sound judgment. His interests have been of the broad and varied nature that is extremely important for the filling of an executive post in the Men's Union.

GERRY CHARNES

Platform

The position of Secretary of the Union has developed from that of mere "letter-writer and minute-taker" into a full fledged executive post. As such, most of the problems facing him are routine, the day-to-day duties of keeping the establishment running. In fulfilling this function he must keep in close contact with the student body, and through discussion strive to bring about close co-operation between the two Unions, the Students' Executive Council and the student body.

While realizing the inherent inadequacies of the present building, he must work to derive the maximum efficiency from the facilities at his disposal. This year one of the chief areas of secretarial jurisdiction will be the eating establishments.

There are certain measures to improve the efficiency of both these places — the cafeteria and the grill room — to which I shall give my support.

1. The purchase of a steam-table to ensure that "hot" meals are actually hot.
2. The obtaining of a dishwashing machine to eliminate the present unfortunate necessity of eating with egg-spiced forks from grease filmed plates.
3. The institution of one-price meals in the cafeteria at a lower cost.
4. The introduction of five cent coffee. A method has been worked out, with the aid of the management of cafeteria and grill room whereby coffee can be served more rapidly, and at the lower price with negligible financial loss.

These are merely a few technical changes. With close co-operation between the S.E.C. and the Union House Committee, and the continued interest of the student body, much can yet be done to derive the greatest benefit from our present overburdened facilities.

Gerald N. F. Charnes.

Pen Sketch

The Scarlet Key Society, the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society, the Debating Union, and The Daily all can testify to Gerry's leadership ability and capacity for sound judgement. In addition he has been continuously active in executive positions on off the campus groups up to and since his enrolment at the university in '48.

Gerry was born in Toronto — hastened to Montreal at an early age. After his graduation from Strathcona Academy he registered in the Faculty of Arts, where he is now in his final year. He has had a good academic record and plans to enter Law on the receipt of his B.A.

An Intercollegiate debater, Gerry was awarded the Gold "A" award in his first year and has since served on many debating committees. He has broad and varied interests and has actively participated in many phases of the ASUS, the Radio Workshop, the Liberal Club. At present he holds the position of Chief Staff Writer on The Daily.

We urge the candidature of one, who through these interests has gained the experience and overall perspective of campus life, so necessary to the competent fulfillment of the responsibilities of this major campus post.

Union Secretary

HARVEY CRESTOHL

Platform

I realize as well as everyone that there is much room for improvement in the Union. Prices should be lower, and service faster. These are not new ideas, not by a long shot. My idea to help carry out these projects is to install a soft drink machine and a milk machine in the Union. This would eliminate much of the heavy crowds at the counter, because many students bring their lunch with them, and line up just for drinks. But let us not go off the deep end. I know that, if elected, I do not stand alone, but I will be part of an executive body. No idea of mine can succeed except through agreement with my co-workers. Therefore, I stand before you with just one main "board" to my platform. If I am elected, I will serve the student body as best I can in my capacity as secretary of the Union. I will work and co-operate with the rest of the executive to carry out all plans that we might have. I will spend all the time I can possibly spare. This is all I pledge to you; I promise to do my best to carry out all the functions and requirements of secretary of the Union. I leave it to you to decide whether my best is good enough.

Harvey Crestohl

Pen Sketch

In supporting Harvey Crestohl for Secretary of the Union we are not backing a superman without equal on the campus. Rather, we are boosting a likeable, down-to-earth fellow who will carry out a job in a responsible manner.

And Harvey has the background to do this. Besides debating and serving for the past two years on the executive of the Arts and Science Debating Society, Harvey is now President of Third Year, Arts and Science.

And what those who know Harvey like best, is that he is not an ostentatious, "little man, who made you" type. Rather his prototype is "Hardworking, experienced, and a terrific fellow to work with."

Secretary of the Union is a responsible position that requires, a faculty for working with other people. And we feel that Harvey is just the man to fit this post.

Last summer she was chosen by the Experiment in International Living to be one of a group of Americans who lived with French families in Rouen, France as part of a programme to aid international understanding. Since she has been at McGill, Alison was a member of the cast of the Player's Club production, "The Children's Hours."

Through her experience in extra-curricular activities and her work in Europe this summer, Alison has acquired experience in working with people. NOGI NEWCOMB

Platform

The McGill Union is primarily a building and an organization for the students of the University, and it is with this in mind that I am contesting the position of Secretary of the Union. I intend to satisfy every reasonable and possible want of the student body in relation to the Union which falls under the jurisdiction of the Secretary. It is ridiculous to say that prices in the cafeteria will be lowered when one looks at the Canadian economic scene, but I will strive to keep them at their present level and even provide a greater diversification of food. I have plans to interest the necessary officials into the redecoration of the main lobby and small restaurant, two sections of the building which at the present time have almost reached the stage of being eye-sores. In addition, I would like to see the entire building, including the cafeterias, run with the greatest possible efficiency so as to provide the maximum convenience for the student body as a whole. It is with these thoughts that I am appealing to every male student in the University. If elected, I will do my utmost to make the Union a place which everyone will enjoy to use.

Pen Sketch

We, the undersigned, firmly believe that Nogi Newcomb will prove to be an extremely efficient and capable Secretary of the McGill Union. He has shown exceptional management in his high-school activities, and will no doubt continue to do so in this position which he is contesting. Nogi received his elementary education in Montreal and completed his last three years of schooling in Ontario. It was during these three years that he proved himself able to undertake various responsible positions in student organizations. He was editor-in-chief of the school magazine, a publication which appeared five times a year with a circulation of over fourteen hundred copies per issue. In addition, he was President of the Acting Club and did much to promote a renewed interest in dramatics in the school. At the same time, Nogi served on the executive board of both the Political Science group and the French Club. At McGill, he is taking a part in the publicity side of the Winter Carnival during the coming year.

Nogi is certainly a hard working and efficient organizer, and we believe that, if elected, he will show the same industry and capability as Secretary of the Union.

LARRY WAINBERG

Platform

"Let's go to the Union," is heard on the campus every day. If we are congregating at the Union, why not make it a place with the best possible facilities. I shall carry out at least the following improvements:

- 1) Music will be installed in the Cafeteria and Grill Room for a more pleasant atmosphere.
- 2) There will be a greater variety and better quality food.
- 3) A faster and more efficient noon hour service will be arranged.
- 4) Magazines, records and ping pong tables will be added for further student enjoyment.

The Union, the centre of McGill student activities, requires a capable executive for its administration. Each and every student should therefore make it his duty to vote on December 5.

LARRY WAINBERG

Pen Sketch

In order to show that Larry is qualified for the position of Secretary of the McGill Union, it is necessary to list the duties of the Secretary.

1) The major portion of the secretarial duties consist of delegated tasks assigned by the president. Taking charge of industrial foods, redecoration, seeing that the rooms are clean, and budgeting are some of these tasks.

2) Minor duties consist of taking minutes of House Committee meetings, and writing the necessary correspondence.

How does Larry fill these qualifications?

1) For the past year Larry has worked for a large manufacturing firm, first as assistant purchaser, then as salesman, and finally he was promoted to take charge of the entire cost system of the firm. This valuable knowledge and practical experience acquired would prove very beneficial in carrying out a majority of the delegated tasks.

2) Besides his business activities, Larry is very active in public-speaking and is a graduate of a well-known public-speaking school. His active public-speaking participation in a large community charity drive and his membership in a world-wide public-speaking club clearly demonstrates Larry's capacity to do hard, conscientious work.

3) As secretary of the Faculty of Commerce at McGill, Larry can easily adapt himself to any secretarial duties that the position would demand of him.

For his capable, persevering and conscientious characteristics, we, the undersigned, wholeheartedly endorse and recommend Larry Wainberg as candidate for the position of secretary of the Union.
